

Agnes Allen-McLean, Fayetteville State University- c/o 2013, English Literature

Name : Agnes Allen-McLean
Your HBCU : Fayetteville State University
Graduation Year : 2013
Major : English Literature

1. Where are you from? Who introduced you to HBCUs?*

I am originally from Brooklyn, New York. I first heard about HBCU's from family members and hearing them talk about them as a child. Later on I heard about them from other folks and I decided to check them out on my own.

2. Why did you choose an HBCU over a pwi?*

The first college I went to was a pwi. I decided to go to an HBCU to see what the cultural differences were, and to see the difference between the educational curricula.

3. What is the story of your "experience" at Your HBCU given its heralded status as a stellar and prestigious institution?*

My HBCU is still lauded as an outstanding and upstanding institution of higher learning. It still has a "family" atmosphere and is a close-knit campus. Also, the professors and staff are caring towards students.

4. "First time" experiences at your HBCU?*

N/A

5. Who are the professors that have impacted your life in and out of the classroom? How did they do that?*

Dr. Brooksie Harrington (English 101/African-American Literature). He is such a caring educator, and very knowledgeable about literature. He is also very passionate about teaching his students. I learned a lot in his classes. I still see him from time to time on campus during Homecoming and other events.

6. What sports do/did you play at your HBCU? What positions?
