2. Why did you choose an HBCU over a pwi?*

I attended predominately white schools almost all of my life. At times, I was the only black student in my honors programs, the only black student in a few honors societies and clubs, and, at times, I felt “too white” for my black classmates and “too black” for my white classmates. I wanted to attend an HBCU to be amongst like-minded, black intellectuals.
