1. Where are you from? Who introduced you to HBCUs?*

I was born and raised in Conway, South Carolina. I first heard about Morris College when we had a college workshop day at my high school. I expressed an interest in obtaining a degree in Biology so I could go on to Vet school and I was introduced to Dr. Maggie Glover, former Senator turned HBCU-UP director.

2. Why did you choose an HBCU over a pwi?*

I choose it (HBCU over a pwi) because of the promise of a family bond that wouldn't be broken and the fact that I wouldn't become a number lost in the masses of students. To this day that promise hasn't been broken

3. What is the story of your "experience" at Your HBCU given its heralded status as a stellar and prestigious institution?*

It's been around for a century helping young men and woman move on to a greater stage in life with a staff that is here to help, and when I got there in 2006 it was no different. Everyone there was willing to point us young men and women in the right direction.

4. "First time" experiences at your HBCU?***

N/A

Wilson-Booker Science Building on the Morris College Campus

5. Who are the professors that have impacted your life in and out of the classroom? How did they do that?***

N/A

6. What sports and/or extra curricular activities did you do in High School? And why?

I didn't play a sport actually.

7. Best restaurants on/near campus? Best dishes?

The best restaurant was an asian cuisine joint called Teriyaki Wok. They gave you so much food for so little money. The other favorite spot was Murray's they had the best donuts on Earth. Forget Krispy Kreme, and Dunkin Donuts, Murray's had them beat

8. College crush?

I spent my time in the science labs until I was blindsided by Devin Vestal one day my senior year. Now we're engaged to be married on March 8, 2014. I love her more than anything on this earth.
